Type of Placement	Occupational Therapy Role Emerging Placement – Employee Health and Wellbeing Service
Details of type of clients being dealt with	All employees within our Trust have access to our health and wellbeing service. You would be supporting colleagues who may be planning to return to work, or who have recently returned following a period of absence.
Special Knowledge and information which would be useful to the student	This placement will be based within our staff health and wellbeing service, designing and offering occupational therapy services to any employees who may require this in line with their physical and/or mental health needs and goals. In some cases, the need for OT may potentially have arisen as a result of a health condition that has attributed to an absence from work. This intervention is offered as part of a supportive return to work plan or in order to provide support to an employee who may have recently returned to work following a period of absence. This may involve communication with a range of individuals involving sensitive information and will require a high level of confidentiality.
